Hello Everyone,

Considering all the challenges that COVID-19 has placed in our path, the term is progressing in a positive manner. I want to thank the students and staff for contributing to the smooth start to the term. The Boarding House remains closed at present at the request of the Department for Education, so the Boarders are all part of our online learning program. These students are joined by a number of other students, whose parents have decided to choose the online learning options we are offering.

The Online Learning Support Team, of John Solly, Sheri Fischer, Aseri Raikiwasa and Sue-Anne Marino have been supporting students, parents and staff for the past 3 weeks. If your child is learning at home and you or your child need support, please contact our Online Learning Support Team and they will provide help and advice.

The SRC Induction assembly was held yesterday afternoon as an online event. I want to thank the parents, friends and community members who joined us via Zoom technology for this important assembly.

Congratulations to all the people who helped to make the 2020 Induction assembly an enormous success. It was the first online assembly our school has had and from all the feedback so far, it was very successful.

We did have a few technical issues and we will look at how we can overcome these for future events.

Enormous thanks to Jordan Hooper for organising the SRC training day and induction assembly. Many thanks to Sarah Agnew and Anna Williamson for their contribution. Thanks also to Trevor and the technical support from Aseri Raikiwasa, Meredith Ramsey and Jo Turner.

Thanks also to all the people who contributed food for the SRC lunch.

Special thanks to Olivia Dunn, our guest speaker for her very inspiring and entertaining address. If you have any feedback, please forward this to me, so we can make further improvements for next time. Finally, I thank the SRC members for participating and the students and staff, who remained in the classrooms to observe the presentations of badges and certificates.

The Leadership Team had a very successful Virtual Visit (meeting) by Rowena and members of the LET Team. Christine Thompson and Lee Carter from the Learning Improvement group and Philippa Grainger also joined our discussions. The group discussion focused on the improvement work, as outlined in our School Improvement Plan and also looked at the tremendous work we have been doing since the COVID-19 redirected our energies.

Later this term Rowena and Robyn will return to our school and will take part in classroom observations. I thank the members of the Leadership Team for their participation and contribution to the discussion.

The Meeting of the school Governing Council has been postponed to Tuesday 2nd June 5.30pm. Depending on the restrictions we may be able to have the meeting in the staffroom or we will set up a Zoom meeting.

At Cleve Area School we aim to provide the best Educational Service to our community. Our goal is to help each student to be successful. We want all students to:

- have a positive attitude
- attend every lesson every day
- achieve their best
- be accountable
- be assertive, not aggressive
- act as positive, responsible young individuals.

At Cleve Area School we aim to work as a strong, cohesive team.

- We respect others
- We respect ourselves
- We respect diversity
- We respect the environment

The focus of our work is on positive behaviours for teaching and learning.

I truly believe that Cleve Area School is a great place to learn, work and play. I invite you all to join us in a partnership to provide the best for our children.

Please take care, stay safe and keep providing us with your feedback.

Thank you.

Deputy News

I hope all the mothers out there enjoyed last Sunday getting spoilt by their kids for Mother's Day. I know that there was lots of excitement in our household and mum was well looked after. We certainly have some very creative kids with the gifts they made and took home for their mums. Kids, don't forget that you should look after your mums every day, as a big thank you for all the hard work they do all the time!

The SRC Induction and Planning day yesterday was very valuable for all our SRC members from Reception to Year 12. To be chosen to voice the ideas of your classmates and represent them to help keep making our school a better place is a big responsibility, which I'm confident that you all will do a great job of. I was really proud of the way that the older students supported the younger SRC Reps during the planning session and how lots of ideas have already been collected, ready to be discussed at the next meeting. Congratulations also on adapting and confidently engaging in the induction assembly online. You all looked like trained professionals!

I have been going on some walk throughs recently in our R-7 classes and have been really pleased with the powerful learning which is taking place. Students have been engaged with their learning and able to relay information to me about what they are learning. Sometimes it's not a quick visit, as there have been so many students wanting to proudly share their work with me. Keep up the good work everyone!

I have also recently had a few lessons in some of the secondary classes. Some of the topics have really grabbed my attention and by the looks of it, also the students. The work ethic which our older students are displaying is to be commended. There have been many lessons where the students have been collaborating and questioning each other, which is a powerful learning strategy and helps to deepen their understanding of the topic. Well done Secondary's!

Finally, I would like to welcome Amie- Lee Harris to our school for the remainder of the school term. Aime-Lee, who many of you would be familiar with as being the daughter of Trent and Ange, is currently in her 4th year of a Double Degree at Flinders University. She will be here for seven weeks with Mrs Sarah Agnew and the R/1's completing her practicum. We hope that she finds her time at the school rewarding and a valuable learning experience to further develop her teaching expertise. It's always great to see an ex-student return!

Until next time, stay safe.

In PBL this term we have been focusing on our mental health and improving our resilience. One powerful practice to becoming more resilience is practicing gratitude which we explore. The students had an activity to hunt for the good stuff for one week and find three things they were grateful for each day. This is Miranda Millard's gratitude table which she has kindly shared. Well done Miranda! We hope that students continue to hunt for the good stuff even when times are tough.

Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
I am grateful for school because it gives me something to do and it is somewhere, I can socialise.	I am grateful for shelter because lots of people have no home and nowhere to go in a storm or cold rainy night.	I am grateful for heaters because without them I would be freezing. 	I am grateful for electricity because it brings light, heat, entertainment (TV), e.c.t. 	I am grateful for hospitals, ambulances and other medical volunteers because without them a lot more people would have died.
I am grateful for the internet because it helps me do my homework and without it lots of people would not have access to education.	I am grateful for music lessons because it is a good skill to have and it helps with memory and social skills.	I am grateful for fresh water because it is essential for life.	I am grateful for netball training because without sport I have realised how much I enjoyed it. 	I am grateful for weekends because it gives me a bit of a break from school.
I am grateful for our dog because he entertains me and keeps me company. 	I am grateful for fresh food because it is both essential and enjoyable (we watched bug busters in home ec).	I am grateful for books because they are entertaining and interesting.	I am grateful for a caring family because they care about me.	I am grateful for the farm because there is lots of space to do what I like rather than being isolated in a house in the city with no back yard.

Medication

Does your child require medication to be administered? Medication can be administered in an education or care service with written advice on a medication agreement .
If this is the case please contact the school for a Medication Agreement or further information.

Labelling Items

We have a large amount of drink bottles and containers in the lost property. Please make sure all items of clothing, drink bottles and lunch boxes are named.
