BEHAVIOUR MANAGEMENT POLICY

The school believes that the Boarding House should be a place where students feel at home and safe, free of bullying and harassment, where co-operation and positive interaction are encouraged.

The Boarding House Parent and the students are therefore expected to collaboratively develop a standard of conduct where this can occur. This policy needs to be read in conjunction with the document “Students’ Rights and Responsibilities”.

The Boarding House rules and behavioural expectations are formulated to develop a positive climate and are based on the following components (which also form the basis of the school’s Behaviour Management policy).

The 6 C’s

Cooperation

Courtesy

Caring

Communication

Consideration

Compliance

All students must accept this code of conduct, and to maintain satisfactory behavioural standards there need to be consequences for breaches of the rules and behavioural expectations.

Step 1

In the event of continued breach of expectations, the student will be grounded for 2 days and parents notified.

Grounding means

That students are confined to the Boarding House property. Except attendance at school.

That students do not participate in Boarding House excursions or such activities, nor in sports practices.

That students may have added roster duties.

Step 2

A further breach will result in a conference involving the student, parents, Boarding House Supervisor and the Principal or delegate and the Chairperson of the committee or delegate. This conference will outline expected student behaviour required to avoid suspension from the Boarding House.

Step 3

A subsequent breach can involve suspension of the student from the Boarding House for a period of 2 to 5 days depending on the severity of the incident. (Parents will need to arrange alternative accommodation.)

Step 4

Another offence can result in the exclusion of the student from the Boarding House. Offences of a more serious nature will incur a different entry point into the behaviour management process.

Offences such as violent behaviour, drug and alcohol use, significant property damage, etc. May result in police intervention.

It is expected that the over-riding emphasis throughout the Behaviour Management process will be the agreed positive expectations of the 6C's and that the consequences outlined above are for non-compliance with these expectations.

The 4 steps of 'discipline consequences' is structured to ensure fairness and consistency in the Boarding House behavioural standards, and to encourage boarders to grow in accepting responsibility for their actions.

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

Step 1

If you have a problem, relate it to your Boarding House Supervisor or the person you have the concern with.

Step 2

If you feel you cannot take it to your Boarding House Supervisor, relate your problem to the School Liaison Person or a member of the Wellbeing Team.

Step 3

If you do not wish to speak to one of these people, you could address your problem to any of your teachers that you feel comfortable in discussing issues with.

Step 4

If these people cannot help you, relate your problem to the Chairperson, Trev McDonough , or one of the committee members as listed in the front of this booklet .

MOTOR VEHICLE POLICY

---
