Principal News

The past fortnight has been very busy in the organisational side of the school, especially within staffing.

Teachers who will be teaching at Cleve in 2024 in Primary are as follows: Elle Burton, Olivia Crosby, Kirsty Elson, Jane Glasson, Samantha Hunt, Gemma Leonard, Erin Martens, Alex Mason, Fiona Millard, Jess Quinn, Natasha Rosenzweig, Georgina Stutley, and Emily Woolford.

In the Secondary, we have: Govinda Adhikari, Graeme Byrnes, Jess Deer, Emma Jordan, Holly Kraehe, Bill Megaritis, Sky Noble, Aseri Raikiwasa, Annie Richter, Phil Searle, Bronwyn Smith, John Solly, Jo Turner, and Sam Wardle.

We are really pleased that we have been able to keep the vast majority of our teachers for 2024 to continue the improvement journey we have been on. It also supports the students learning by having teachers who already have a great understanding of where their learning is currently at, and where it can be further supported or extended.

We will have one or two more teaching appointments in the near future to round out our teaching staff for 2024 as our student numbers will increase from 2023.

We will have announcements for our SSO's in the near future.

In saying this, to ensure that we have the correct staffing numbers, it's extremely important that if you are thinking that your child may be continuing their education at another school, we really need to know as soon as possible. All our students are very fortunate that they are in relatively small classes in comparison to lots of schools in the state, this means that they receive more individual teaching time.

Primary Classes for 2024 are in the process of being organised and we are excited that next year we will have 24 Receptions starting at the beginning of the year and a mid-year intake as well. We look forward to welcoming lots of new families as their children start their schooling journey.

Wherever possible we try to keep our Junior Primary classes as straight classes i.e Reception, Year 1 and Year 2, next year the numbers work out well for this to occur. The Primary class numbers don't align anywhere near as well, so for 2024 we will have Year 3/4 and Year 5/6 classes (2 of each). If you have a child in years 3-6 and have any information you would like us to take into account, please let me know by the end of week 9 this term (Friday 22nd September). The staff endeavour to ensure that every student has a friendship group in their class, but also ensure that they are with students who are good for their learning.

As always, if you have any queries throughout the year please Dojo, email or phone your class teacher, Callum or myself. We would prefer to know about something which is concerning you rather than not. This way we can do something about it and make the situation better for all involved.

Deputy News

We are currently conducting the Progressive Achievement Tests (PAT) in Reading and Mathematics to gauge the academic progress of our students from Year 1 to 10. Each student will complete two tests (one reading, one maths) over the next three weeks. These assessments are a valuable tool to help us understand each student's strengths and areas where they may need additional support. The testing procedure is less rigorous than NAPLAN, but the results are appreciated as they can be collected every year to provide consistent progress tracking. Staff consider this data in combination with results like NAPLAN to ensure every student is being provided with the best support & challenge to help them succeed.

I would like to acknowledge our dedicated Ag team, including John Solly, Lori Fogarty, Tim Collins, and Feebi Hazelgrove, who have devoted so much time over the past six months to preparing our sheep and goats for entry into the Adelaide Show. As we get most of our information about the program from them, it is generally focused on the input of the students and their successes. However, I know that it has been made possible by the work of the team behind them. I am sure they will achieve excellent results while competing at the show this week and these accomplishments are a testament to the teamwork, dedication, and passion that our Ag team and students have poured into this endeavour.

The final race of the year for Pedal Prix will be held next weekend. An early thank you to Craig Jericho from Jericho Engineers, Wudinna, for helping us out with some last minute carbon-fibre patching after a training incident. I expected we might need his assistance again this year but I hoped we would make it to the start line first. As one of the team has found out, the brakes aren't there just for decoration! I really can't say enough how much I appreciate Craig for his assistance, without him we would be a trike down for the race which would be very disappointing considering the effort the team has been putting in.

Cheers

Callum

YEAR 7-9 NINE A-SIDE FOOTBALL

Recently many of our year 7 to 9 students participated in the annual Nine A-side Football Carnival in Cleve. Other schools involved this year were Elliston and Cowell. We entered 3 teams in the boy competition and 2 teams in the girls. It was really pleasing to see the sportsmanship displayed by our students and the improvement in teamwork and skills throughout the day. Everyone did a great job at trying their best but also competing in the right spirit. Cleve provided the winning team for both the boy and girl competitions resulting in us winning the Norwood Football Club's Central Eyre Peninsula Shield.

A big thank you to Andrew Taheny for his help in setting up for and organising the day. Thank you to Aseri Raikiwasa for his assistance with umpiring and to Emma Jordan and Lori Fogarty for their help with coaching teams. Thanks also to the Cleve Sporting Bodies for use of their facilities.

COMMUNITY NOTICES

SA Ambulance Service

SA Ambulance Service is looking for volunteers at Cleve and Cowell stations. We want to share the experiences of our volunteers with you – in the hope that you might be interested in joining!

One of our newer SAAS faces at Cleve is Nicolle Harris. She joined the Cleve SA Ambulance Volunteer team this year and uses her health skills to help her community.

“I feel SAAS is such an important group to be a part of, and it provides such a sense of satisfaction and pride giving back to those in a time of need,” Nicolle said.

“The ongoing training, theory, and workshops SAAS provides are fantastic. The Cleve station meets weekly for training, so we are continuously learning new skills and updating techniques,” she said.

Nicolle said she was working through the training, starting with Ambulance Assist.

“AA involves driving and providing basic assistance, then moving to more clinical levels,” she said.

The time commitment is often cited as a barrier to participation as a volunteer. However, rosters are flexible; you can nominate yourself on the roster.

“All Cleve members either work full-time or part-time, have families, and run our businesses,” Nicolle said.

“So for these individuals to still give back to their communities in a volunteering role is an incredible effort,” she said.

“Not all members are from a clinical background so anyone can join, and training is provided.”

People join SAAS at many stages of their lives and from varying backgrounds. Training and uniforms are free, and out-of-pocket costs such as fuel are reimbursed.

Volunteers learn more than just medical skills; they meet new people, improve leadership skills, and get to know their communities.

If you'd like to join Nicolle at Cleve, you can find out more information via our website, www.saasvolunteer.sa.gov.au, or call the Volunteer Support Unit on 1300 175 584.
